

Implementing Inclusion in Schools: Project update [1]

The partners of the Implementing Inclusion in Schools (IIS) project have released their 4th newsletter, which details their latest project updates. These updates include a first introduction of the projects training modules, which have been developed by the partners alongside teachers and schools and aim to support school staff with the implementation of inclusive education in their school; an update on the outcomes of the project's latest project meeting in Gandia, Spain and a presentation of the project's Spanish partner schools.
